Their stock of fresh and salt meats cannot be excelled anywhere in northwestern Ohio, and persons wanting anything in their line should give them a call. They are both affable and pleasing young men and will spare no pains to suit the customers with anything desired in the way of meats.
MAN KILLED AT DEFIANCE.—The following dispatch gives the particulars of an accident which occurred at Defiance Saturday: Sam Corn, a day laborer on a State boat, boarded a west bound passenger train on the Wabash last night at 7:30 to ride to the Baltimore and Ohio crossing, near where he lived. It is supposed he thought it was not going to stop, for just after passing the coal-chutes he jumped from the train, striking an embankment, falling back under the cars, which literally crushed his head, death being instantaneous. Corn was a hard-drinking man, and was drunk at the time of the accident. He leaves a wife and five children, aged from nine months to eight years, in needy circumstances.
WENT TO HIS REST.—Our readers will remember that some weeks ago Mr. Bernard Voeck, accompanied by his wife, left for the South and the Hot Springs of Arkansas for the good of his health. He had been there but a short time when his friends at home were made glad by receiving word that he was improving fast and that he hoped soon to completely regain his health. But a relapse set in and his brother Herman was called to his bedside last week by telegraph. He left on Tuesday with the intention of bringing his brother home if possible, and arrived in Napoleon Monday morning with "Barney," as he was familiarly called, but they had been home but a few short hours when he drew his last breath—another victim to that dreaded disease, consumption. Mr. Voeck was in the 37th year of his age, a man beloved by all, his loss being a serious one to his brothers with whom he was in business relations. His funeral took place yesterday morning from St. Augustine's Church, attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. Peace to his ashes.

Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed concerning the brick walk now being put around the court house lot. If the Commissioners have determined to lay a brick walk, a better quality of brick should be used than those on the ground and a stone curbing should be run around the inside of the walk. It is the only way to make a respectable job of it.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL AT TOLEDO.—On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a bold attempt was made by the prisoners to break from the Toledo jail. At that hour a number of ladies who hold Sunday services at the jail were just entering. In following the usual custom, Deputy Sheriff Edgar unlocked the first door and stepped inside to let the ladies in. The prisoners who were in the conspiracy had saved the iron bar which held the inner door, and before the outside door could be locked, they threw the inner one open and made a rush for liberty. There were sixteen in the gang, and included the worst prisoners in the jail. They were led by Clark, the Chicago desperado, who several weeks ago shot officer McPortland, and closely backing him up were two burly negroes, in for horse stealing. Sheriff Harbeck, who stood near the outer door, hastily drew a small jimmy from his hip pocket and began operations. Knocking two men down, they obstructed the passage for a moment. In the mean time the prisoners were at work with pepper and salt, and made the eyes of the officers suffer. The fight was a most desperate one for about three minutes. Officer Edgar fired one shot at a negro, and just grazed the top of his head. The Sheriff continued to do lively work with his jimmy, and the two finally drove the prisoners back and locked the door. The iron bar had been sawed in two by a saw made from a corner steel conveyed to the prisoners through some of their female relatives.

Great Inducements.
It will be exceedingly surprising to step in at Saur's large drug and book house and see the great reduction in the prices of wall and window paper, as well as all kinds of oils and paints. These special prices will only run for the next 60 days, during which time it is expected to close out the entire stock of the above named goods, which is yet very large, in order to make room for the mammoth fall stock which will be purchased at an early date. This is a rare opportunity for everybody, and any one who contemplates painting or papering this fall, to secure the materials (all of which are warranted to be strictly first class), at prices so low that they could better afford to borrow the money even to pay interest, than to wait longer to get the materials. Don't delay this golden opportunity to buy cheap. Recollect, it is first come, first served.

"The truth will arise, though all the earth overwhelm it, to men's eyes."
This sentiment of the poet becomes a self evident fact to those who visit and view the elegant store and stock of Kneeland the druggist, after having heard the comments of envious competition. His goods will always be found fresh, pure and selected with a taste and care, gained by a long experience in handling all branches of goods embraced in the general drug line. Call, see, and be convinced.
Gents, if you want a nice line of furnishings goods to select from go to the Eagle Clothing House.
ED. NORTHWEST.—The seventh commandment is "Thou shalt not steal." This commandment like all the other nine has three-fold significance, the natural, the spiritual and celestial. In the natural sense this commandment signifies according to the letter not to steal or plunder in time of peace and in general never to deprive another of his property under any pretense whatever. In this sense it extends also to all impositions and unlawful methods of gain, usury and exactions, likewise to all fraudulent practices in the payment of duties and taxes. Workmen offend against this commandment who do their work in any unjust manner by practicing deceit. Traders offend against it who in their trading endeavor to impose either in regard to the quality of their goods or in weight, measure, or making out their accounts. Judges offend against it who are influenced in their judgments, by friendship, bribes, relationship or any other consideration to the perverting of law and equity, and depriving others of their just claims and possession. For instance, if a man sells a possession and Ananias like keeps back part of the price or agrees to let a man occupy a lot by his fencing it in and occupy it until it is sold, and after a time he gives it to another man without consulting the occupant, I think that I am justified in saying that such proceedings come under the above head. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore it is fully set in the heart of man to do evil.

Teachers, Attention!

Ma. ENGLISH:—I cannot tell when I saw as much water on the ground and in the fields as there is over here near Portage in Wood county. Some of the corn and wheat fields are nearly all covered with water from one to three feet deep. Some of the wheat shocks are standing in water up to the band. One man south of Weston has 15 acres of cabbage all under water—loss about $2,000.
I left Maleta last Friday morning for the purpose of attending the Central Ohio Sunday School Assembly at Portage, Wood county, Ohio. But the weather has been so unfavorable that the people in the neighborhood could not attend. There are several of the best Sunday school teachers and instructors present, ready for duty, and their instructions and lectures thus far are highly appreciated by all those who are present as workers in the Sunday school army. Among those who are leaders of the assembly by way of lectures and instructors are Doctors Warner, of Parkersburg, Virginia; Landis, of Dayton, Ohio; President C. H. Kiercuff, of Hartsville, College, Indiana. Col. R. Cowden, Gallon, Ohio, is the general superintendent of the assembly. Comments on his leadership is unnecessary, as he is too well known in Ohio to need any commendations passed upon him. Prof. E. B. Lowrey, of Dayton, O., is in charge of the musical department. Mrs. L. R. Kiercuff, of Dayton, O., has charge of the primary. Prof. E. L. Shney, of Westerville, O., the intermediate, and Dr. Land's the senior department. Each one of the teachers seemed to understand their respective departments thoroughly. On Sunday at 10:30 a. m., Dr. Warner preached a very able sermon from the subject, "Power of Christ to save."—Mathew 8-27. On account of the rain and the inclemency of the weather the assembly adjourned on last Tuesday afternoon, sine die.
A BAD INCIDENT.—The community near where the assembly was held were greatly alarmed on Saturday the 5th inst. Mr. Cain Long's little girl, three years old had fallen into the water and was drowned. The particulars are as follows: She and an older sister, had gone out into the orchard to gather a few apples, and on their return this little girl, who was particularly fond of playing in water, stopped to amuse herself in a little pool of water near a large and deep ditch that runs in front of the house, and it is supposed that in place of her going down to the bridge to cross that she, not knowing the depth of the water, she deliberately walked into the ditch, and as the ditch was full of water and very swift, there can be no doubt but that the current carried her body down to the Portage river, about 80 rods from where she fell into the ditch. When the older sister came to the point where her sister was, she said out there playing in the water. And as mothers are usually on the watch of their children, she stopped to the door and called, but no answer came. She immediately gave the alarm, and a search was made, but up to the present writing her remains are not found. The parents are almost "struck over the sudden and mysterious disappearance of the child. Maleta, O., Aug. 10th, 1882. D. W. D.

Oh! have we been called together, As the past few months have flown; And each time a dear one's missing, They are gathering round the throne.
While here we do sadly miss them, They are better off than we; And to wish them back among us, Would be wrong for you or me.
'Twas you gently sloping hillside Another jewel now laid rest; Ever free from pain and anguish, She has joined the truly blest.
Yes, little Sadie sweetly sleeps, Close by papa, near the old— And their spirits ever happy roam together now with God.
Who will be the next one summoned From here to that heavenly realm? They can never come into us, But we all may go to them.
